IAI Architecture Award

Details Click

IAI Architecture Award aims to commend out standing architecture, demonstrate the inheritance and development of architectural spirit, promote the improvement of the built environment, the aesthetic level, innovative spirit and social effect in architectural design and planning. At the same time, it reflects the value of architecture and architects in social, economic and cultural development to a greater extent.

IAI Architecture Award is derived from the IAI Design Award architecture category established in 2014. After continuous development and improvement, it has become a popular international architecture award, lots of international renowned architects won the prize, including Zaha Hadid, Jakob+Macfarlane (France), Benedetta Tagliabue (Spain), Haim Dotan (Israel), Diego Guayasamin (Ecuador) and others.
